UPLAND SCHOOLS GET CLEAN RECORD FROM COUNTY GRAND JURY

Investigating Auditors Spend One Day Examining Books In Local Offices

Upland elementary school district was given a clean record in the county-wide investigation recently conducted by the San Bernardino county grand jury, it was learned on the release of the report. No criticism or suggestions were voiced by the two representatives of the auditing firm of C. J. Rambo & Co., following their visit to Upland in March. The auditors were employed by the grand jury.

The auditors spent one day here, going over the books in the office of the school superintendent, Harold W. Cook. Because of the construction of the new elementary school, the auditors expressed themselves as being surprised at the volume of business which went through the school books in the course of a year.

Supervisor of Famous Tobacco Market Visitor

Visiting in Cucamonga now is Thos. R. Harrison of South Hills, Va., supervisor of the famous auction tobacco market in North Carolina. Mr. Harrison is occupying one of the ranch homes owned by Garrett & Co.

A newspaper editor for 25 years, Mr. Harrison has recently resigned from his position of head of the South Hill Enterprise. A great walker. Mr. Harrison yesterday visited San Antonio Heights, having walked from Cucamonga. In fact, he thinks nothing of a leisurely stroll of many miles.

Mr. Harrison knew the late Paul Garrett many years ago in New York state. Mr. Garrett, president of the large vintage company, has been known for many years as the dean of the wine producers.

Still retaining his position as supervisor of the tobacco market, Mr. Harison plans to remain here until the first of September, when he will return to North Carolina for the tobacco auction.

South Hill is one of fifty auction tobacco markets in the country.

Commenting on the status of the tobacco farmer, Mr. Harrison says that the agriculturalists are making a living and are able to buy shoes for their children. In 1939 the tobacco industry threw out the government regulation of their crop and received an average price per pound of 15 cents last year. For the previous years, when government regulation prevailed, the price was 22½ cents. In 1940 the crop will return to government regulation.

Opera Association To Elect Officers Wednesday Evening

Chaffey Opera association, a chorus formed under the auspices of Chaffey People's college, will hold an organization meeting Wednesday evening in the south music hall, second floor of the auditorium, at 7 o'clock.

Bert Hendy of Upland has been serving as acting chairman during the past month and Mrs. Halley Bartholomew of Ontario is secretary pro tem. Officers will be elected tomorrow night.

All singers 20 years or age or more may join the chorus. No previous operatic training is required, there are no try-outs unless requested and there are no charges.

All persons interested are urged to join the association at once and start with the others in rehearsals for the first production, the famous opera, "Mignon".

At present Upland, Ontario, Chino, Pomona, LaVerne, San Dimas and Fontana are represented in the chorus.

John Voss Case, 388 East Thirteenth street, is a patient at the San Antonio Community hospital, having entered on Sunday.

After 30 Years As Gas Dealer, Roy Creighton Leases Local Business

Pioneer Upland Merchant Will Continue With Sporting Goods Store

After 30 years as gasoline dealer in Upland, Roy Creighton is retiring from the business. Today Marvin Voth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Voth of Alta Loma, who has been employed in Creighton's service station at C street and Second avenue for the past year, is the new proprietor, having leased the station from Mr. Creighton. The sporting goods store will continue to be operated by Mr. Creighton.

Since 1910, Mr. Creighton has been selling gasoline to Upland motorists. He is said to have been in the gasoline business continuously longer than any other man in California.

NO PUMPS

Being a service station operator today is entirely different from the same business 30 years ago. In the "good old days" there was no such thing as an automobile pump. Garages stored gasoline in tanks above ground and when a customer came to buy fuel, the attendant would measure out five gallons in a can from the tank and pour it into the tank of the waiting vehicle. Thus, every drop of gasoline that was sold had to be handled twice.

HORSE-DRAWN TANK

The method of distributing gasoline to retailers differed considerably, too. From tank cars brought by rail gasoline was pumped into tank wagons. Since a tank truck was unheard of then, all tanks were mounted on wagons, drawn by teams. So when Mr. Creighton needed to refill his tank, a tank wagon would draw up in back of his place of business and transfer the gas to his 300-gallon receptacle. Now trucks unload 2700 gallons at one time to underground tanks.

In 1912 Mr. Creighton startled the motorists of Upland by installing the first gasoline pump, placed in the sidewalk in front of his shop. When "Doc" Kankel and others drove their one and two-lung Reos up to be refueled, it was from this pump that they were served.

SIX CARS HERE

Among the first automobile owners in Upland were the late Dr. W. H. Craig, the late Horace Little, the late Dr. Myers, Harry Kennedy and Gus Hanson. In fact, in 1906 when Mr. Creighton first entered the automobile business (being employed by John Rarick at his bicycle and garage on Euclid avenue) there were only six automobiles in Upland.

Asked how so few cars could keep a garage mechanic busy, he replied: "Cars in those days furnished more business for a garage since they broke down so frequently."

Many were the calls that Mr. Creighton has answered to repair a flat tire. In those days no one thought of carrying a spare. Instead, the motorist had to take his tire off the rim, patch the hole, and remount it, and then to top off the little chore, the tire had to be pumped up by hand. Half an hour was considered about the minimum for repairing a flat.

Since Mr. Creighton started operating his own business (and he has been in the bicycle, garage, service station and sporting goods business here) he has occupied as many as seven or eight locations.

Fires burned him out twice. Once he was located where the Upland chamber of commerce is now found, but at different times he leased locations on both the east and west sides of Second avenue between A and Ninth street.

ERECTS BUILDING

In 1923 Mr. Creighton erected the building which he now occupies. "Doc" Bowman has been employed at Creighton's store for 22 years, and Earl Dorrity, who remains with Mr. Voth in the gasoline part of the business, has been at Creighton's almost as long.

Loyalty of customers who have purchased their gasoline from him for 30 years is highly prized by Mr. Creighton.

Mr. Voth has been engaged in the gasoline business for seven years, having worked for Union, Texaco and Richfield oil companies.

Continuing the same policy, Mr. Voth plans to follow in Mr. Creighton's footsteps.

Who knows but what he will be establishing another record about 1970 for 30 years of service as a gasoline retailer?

LAST WEEK FOR CENSUS WORKERS

Upland Enumerators Expect to Complete Count by End Of This Week

The 1940 federal census will be completed in Upland this week, according to expectations of the local enumerators. Working in this territory since the first of April have been Glenn Kelley, Henry Harms, Miss Fern Lutz and Mrs. Cecil Dazey.

Because of the complicated farm schedules the census taking in the rural areas has necessarily taken longer than enumeration in city sections.

One of the last sections to be covered is the territory west of Euclid avenue, in the vicinity of Arrow highway.

Most of the calls received at the Upland chamber of commerce, where persons not enumerated were asked to report, were from one section.

J. B. Curtis May Be Assembly Candidate

J. B. Curtis, who served as chairman of the 1939 grand jury which disbanded yesterday, informally let it be known to his fellow jurors that he is a likely contended for the office of assemblyman from this district.

If Mr. Curtis, formerly of Upland, now residing in Ontario, is a candidate he will seek the position now held by Godfrey A. Andreas of Upland.

MAYOR APPOINTS GROUP TO STUDY LOCAL LICENSES

Two Councilmen, Paul Hottel Named on Special Committee

Councilmen Eugene Nisbet and Godfrey Andreas and Paul Hottel have been appointed by Mayor D. J. Cameron as a special committee to consider changes in the city's license law.

The committee was named with the idea of submitting a proposal at the May 2 council meeting. Mr. Cameron was authorized at last Thursday's meeting to appoint the committee.

Upland's license law situation has been under discussion for some time. Mr. Hottel brought the matter up at the last council meeting by pointing out that wholesalers are required to pay a higher license here than is the average of other cities.

Mr. Nisbet, one of the new members on the council, suggested that the council immediately take up the license matter and asked that consideration of the proposed license provisions be special business at the next regular meeting.

Two New Residences Recently Started

Youthful Artists Entertain Today At Rotary Meeting

Upland Rotarians were entertained at noon today by two youthful artists — June LaVerne and Delores Little.

Miss LaVerne, who has gained wide fame as a child prodigy, appeared in popular songs.

Miss Little, graceful and agile as a tap and acrobatic dancer, was also given a very popular reception for her entertaining acts.

Stearns Ingalls was program chairman, with President Owen E. Atwood in charge of the meeting. Special announcement was made of the Rotary club district conference to be held in Long Beach Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Soap Box Derby Benefit Planned

Upland Lions Club Will Present Comedy in School Auditorium May 2

Presentation of "Bertha, the Beautiful Typewriter Girl", in the Elementary school auditorium on Thursday, May 2, will be sponsored by the Upland Lions club as a benefit for the club's second annual soap box derby.

Wilfred Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Henry, Upland, is director of the cast that will present the comedy next month. The cast is made up of members of the Pomona Theatre guild. Tickets for the four-act play are now being sold by members of the club.

Announcement of the production here is expected to stimulate wide interest. Mr. Henry, who is rapidly establishing himself as an outstanding director, will make his first appearance here as a director. While a student on the Chaffey campus, Mr. Henry frequently appeared in stage productions and his performance is remembered by many people.

Since the purpose of the play is to provide funds for the soap box derby, it is expected the performance will be widely supported. The Lions club sponsored the first annual derby last summer, many home-made speed cars being entered by local youths. The derby was held on upper Euclid avenue.

While the club will continue to provide its own funds to aid in sponsoring the derby, the benefit is planned to provide additional money for the popular event among the youths.

Tickets for the benefit performance sell at 35 cents each.

Preceding the presentation of the play, the Lions club and guests will unite for a dinner meeting in the school's cafeteria. A feature of this meeting will be the installation of the club's new officers.

Peggy Grahame and Donald Wight, shown above, have leading roles in "Smiling Through", popular stage production which will be given in the Chaffey auditorium Friday night. Miss Grahame is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grahame of Upland and Mr. Wight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wight, Ontario.

It has been used for professional stage performances of the dramatic romance and in the screen production by Paramount Studios.

CHAFFEY POLICY GRAND JURY TOPIC

Bookkeeping Details and Adult Enrollments Discussed In Report

Legality of counting as "students" those persons who attend the Laymen's conference and the civic conference on the Chaffey campus is questioned by the auditor's report to the 1939 grand jury.

A copy of the auditor's report is on file today in the courthouse. The lengthy document discusses various bookkeeping practices as approved by the Chaffey board. Half a dozen other school districts are also discussed in the grand jury report.

C. J. Rambo, auditor of Los Angeles and San Francisco, employed by the grand jury to investigate the schools in the county, cites a bulletin issued by the state department of education which condones the practice of counting as students adults who attend the various conferences.

FEES QUESTIONED

The auditor also questions the legality of fees collected from students for late registration and for other purposes.

Changes in the arrangements whereby the high school buses also carry the junior college students are also suggested.

Considerable attention is also given by the auditor as to the manner in which the high school cooperative book and the junior college book store are conducted.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Chaffey trust funds were also discussed. "With the exception of the Podrasnik trust fund established in 1935, it has only been by oral explanations and information that we have been able to determine either the origin of these funds or the purposes for which intended," Mr. Rambo said. "It is our recommendation that hereafter when trust funds of this character are accepted by the school administration that a definite and understandable agreement, providing for the care and use of the money be executed.

"It is also recommended that hereafter a segregation be kept of school district moneys, student body activity funds and trust accounts and that all funds classified as school district moneys be immediately deposited in the county treasury."

OTHER DISTRICTS

Ontario and Colton school districts were cited as having inadequate bookkeeping systems by the grand jury.

HOSPITAL RECORD SHOWS HUGE GAIN IN EIGHT YEARS

Charles V. Barr Reelected Head of Trustees at Annual Meeting

Volume of San Antonio Community hospital business has increased 50 per cent during the last eight years, members of the hospital association were advised at the annual meeting recently.

While general economic conditions have not been so favorable during this period, the hospital has gained steadily and the outlook is bright for a continued increase in the number of patients served, Dr. A. A. Aita, hospital superintendent, reported. He made the definite comparison that business so far in 1940 is ahead of the same period in 1939.

BARR REELECTED

Charles V. Barr was reelected president of the association's board of trustees. Other officers are Charles Latimer, vice-president; W. K. Beattie, treasurer, and Dr. Aita, secretary.

"The directors and the community can be proud of the fact that no emergency case has ever been turned away," Dr. Aita said, explaining that in emergencies the poor are given the same consideration as are the patients able to pay.

It is also noteworthy that no baby has ever been refused hospitalization, he said, in praising the untiring work of the women's auxiliary of the hospital. The sick baby fund is constantly being used to help the tots who need special attention and who would not otherwise receive the vital care, Dr. Aita emphasized.

MEMBERS LISTED

Members of the hospital association are Charles V. Barr, W. K. Beattie, Earl W. Paul, G. A. Hanson, Charles Latimer, Arthur Peterson, E. W. Fischer, Dr. A. L. Weber, Mrs. F. H. Manker, Dr. J. B. Craig, Mrs. Isaac Jones, Dr. F. F. Abbott, Neil Hickcox, Glenn D. Smith, J. S. Armstrong, A. H. Johnson, Fred Fallis, Norman Lawson, Benton Ballou, John W. Shepperson, C. E. Grier, Joe Crick, Mrs. Una R. Winter and Dr. M. D. White.

Upland P.-T. A. Is Rated as Standard By District Board

Upland Parent-Teacher association was awarded rating as a standard association during the Fifth district board meeting held Friday in Colton. Other associations in the Ontario Council winning standard rating were those in Etiwanda, Fontana and Central in Ontario.

Mrs. F. R. Littlejohn, new district president, presided and plans were made for the district's participation in the state convention to be held in Los Angeles May 21-23.

The president's appointments were ratified by the board. The district chairmen named from Ontario council are Mrs. T. George Cunning of Upland, junior past president of the local association, chairman of character education; Mrs. Joe G. Crick of Alta Loma P.-T. A., legislation; Mrs. Charlotte Hugelman, membership; Mrs. Minnie Emmons, magazines; Mrs. J. I. Countryman, public relations; Mrs. Clifford L. Cochran, elementary and rural P.-T. A., all of Ontario; Mrs. H. E. Fietz, mental hygiene; Mrs. George Newport, parent education, both of Fontana; Mrs. J. B. Curtis of Ontario, motion pictures, and Mrs. Katherine Murray, foreign languages.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. A. Myers of Seattle, Wash., were week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Moremen on Euclid place. Mrs. Myers is a sister of the Upland man. The visitors greatly enjoyed their brief stay with the relatives and were thrilled by the blooming orange trees.

The Grand Jury Report

Audits of public funds are necessary, but surely the 1939 grand jury report as compiled by its auditors must be considered with a "grain of salt". Many school systems in the county are severely indicted in the voluminous report filed late last week.

Summed up, the grand jury report deals largely with technicalities in bookkeeping and conflicts in the interpretations of the many laws.

It is worth noting at the outset, however, that the Upland school system and its method of handling finances was highly commended. That is, the Upland school board members and school executives have handled funds strictly in accordance with the law—as interpreted by the grand jury's auditors. The grand jury had neither criticism nor suggestion to make concerning the local schools.

Chaffey district officials are repeatedly criticized for the methods followed in handling the various funds, accounts and student store finances, the manner of computing attendance of adults at community meetings for the purpose of increasing enrollment figures and other practices.

This criticism comes from one auditing firm in the face of the fact that the Chaffey board on its own initiative employed an independent auditing firm some time ago to check on the school finances and the bookkeeping system. The independent accountants testified to the accuracy in the handling of school money.

Perhaps it is not generally known that school board members have laws governing them at almost every turn in the handling of finances. For example, the grand jury's auditors questioned the legality of an expenditure of a few dollars for a funeral wreath. Yet, municipal officials believing it worthy to buy flowers for a funeral, may do so and meet all legal limitations. But school board members really are not at all times permitted to use their own good judgment due to the mass of legal technicalities.

While it may appear we are attempting to defend the Chaffey board members, we are pointing out that the 1939 grand jury auditors have taken up the issue of technicalities in bookkeeping and that the Chaffey funds in general are maintained in a manner far superior to what the report would lead one to think.

Perhaps there has been some laxness in following absolute minor detail of the terms of the law relative to bookkeeping and administrative restrictions, where such detail would have no bearing on the correctness of the accounts.

Perhaps Chaffey has been a trifle ambitious in having adults register at community lectures and thus increase the "Average Daily Attendance" records. Funds are disbursed by the state to the schools on the basis of the "A.D.A." The auditors specifically pointed out that enumeration of attendances at such meetings as the "Laymen's Conference"—held last Friday and the "Civic Conference"—held for women in the fall—are contrary to the school registration rules. However, there are many precedents for such practice.

In any event, no doubt, the jury's audit will tend to further unify the system of handling school funds throughout the county. The Upland and Chaffey systems are known to be far better than that followed by many other districts.

We still have the greatest confidence in the business ability and integrity of the Chaffey board members—notwithstanding the grand jury's report.

Roy Creighton Rich in Friends

If one were to make an estimate as to who had the most friends in this community, Roy Creighton would surely be given a high rating.

If one were to select a person worthy of the highest possible esteem in the community, Roy Creighton would surely be eligible for consideration.

Almost everyone knows Roy—and everyone who knows him counts Roy as his friend.

Mr. Creighton is one of Upland's veteran businessmen. He has served the community for years. While he is retiring, at least for the time being, as a gasoline dealer, he will continue to operate here one of the finest sporting goods stores in the southland.

A true sportsman and one who loves to be after the fish and game, Mr. Creighton should count himself rich. He has countless friends and he enjoys life.

An Inspiration for Everyone

It takes the faithful cooperation of everyone in the Hemet-San Jacinto communities to present annually the romantic and historical Ramona pageant. In the cast of the glorious and inspiring outdoor play are more than 300 residents of the twin communities. Hundreds of other persons aid in caring for such throngs as were present last Saturday and Sunday, and for those who will attend during the next two week ends.

Those people attending the pageant from Upland no doubt realize that it is a gigantic community task to present the pageant. What is being done in the Riverside county communities is unrivaled in the southland. What is being done there is an inspiration for other communities. Presentation of Ramona pageant is good for the people in Hemet and San Jacinto—and good for everyone who sees it.

Notes of Society

Mrs. Winter Honored By Club Women at Coronado Meet

The seventeenth annual convention of the Southern district, Business and Professional Women's clubs, was held last week end at Hotel Del Coronado, Coronado, and was an occasion of special interest for the delegation from the Upland Business and Professional Women's club.

Motoring down on Saturday were Mrs. Wm. A. Gilliland, president of the local club; Mrs. Vivian M. Santolucito, district recording secretary; Mrs. Una R. Winter and Mrs. E. Tweed Stone. Others attending the Sunday sessions were Mrs. Harry Plum, Miss Hester Mackay, Miss Elizabeth Wright and Miss Rose Sanchez.

Mrs. Santolucito and Mrs. Stone attended the pre-convention board meeting, Mrs. Stone being a committee member.

During the afternoon business session reports of officers and chairmen were made, routine business was transacted and annual election of officers was held.

The meeting was conducted by Miss Dorothy Decker, retiring president, and Miss Luella Pirtle, who served as vice-president during the past year, was elected to the presidency.

Mrs. Santolucito of the Upland club was re-elected recording secretary.

Mrs. Una R. Winter, one of the most widely known club women in Southern California, assisted in organizing the district federation 17 years ago, later served as district president and has worked continuously on important committees and in other capacities, always giving support, advice and encouragement to the club officers. Much of her work has been done "under cover", being known only to the immediate group receiving her aid.

When someone discovered she has not missed a district meeting in the 17 years, it was decided something should be done about it. At the banquet Saturday evening the president called Mrs. Winter to the guest table, presented her with a gardenia corsage and told the assembled club women something of her record.

Mrs. Winter was deeply appreciative and thought the incident closed, therefore being entirely unprepared for the surprise honor paid her at the luncheon Sunday in the kind of tribute that could be inspired only by love and grateful appreciation.

Led by Miss Decker, several women appeared in a copy of the radio program, "What's My Name", all giving testimony concerning an unnamed person, telling of her great importance to the district, of the valuable personal assistance they had received and expressing their admiration, their affection and gratitude.

The speakers were Florence Fitzgerald, junior past president; Miss Dana Williams of Ontario, president of the California state federation; Cora Babbitt Johnson, president of San Diego County Council; Miss Dorothy Decker, retiring president, Miss Luella Pirtle, new president, and Mrs. Vivian M. Santolucito, recording secretary, to whom fell the privilege of revealing that person as Mrs. Winter. It was a beautiful tribute graciously received.

The Upland group then surprised Mrs. Santolucito by presenting her with a gift to celebrate her re-election.

Other courtesies were extended to various officers and gifts were presented to Miss Pirtle and Miss Decker following the installation of officers by Miss Dana Williams.

The three sessions, the banquet and the Sunday breakfast and luncheon, were featured by excellent programs, including outstanding speakers and singing by an a cappella choir.

Each club made an exhibit of its phase of the citrus industry survey. The Upland exhibit included an attractive display of posters, labels, citrus by-products and one of Upland's famous gift baskets for out-of-state guests. The display of the basket and explanation of its use created a sensation among the club women. The basket later was presented to Miss Frances Emmons, noted attorney of Los Angeles.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma Club Entertained By Mrs. Kipp

Serving both as hostess and as program speaker, Mrs. Alfred R. Kipp, assisted by Mrs. L. J. Thomas and Mrs. Robert Nesbit entertained the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club Thursday afternoon at her home on San Antonio Crescent West, San Antonio Heights. Mrs. Kipp is a member of the club and once each year she opens her home for a meeting.

Mrs. John McPherson, the club president, conducted a short business session, during which Mrs. L. J. Thomas was selected as the club's delegate to the County Federation board meeting held Friday in Adelanto.

Mrs. W. B. Harvey served as program chairman and for the musical portion of the program she presented Miss Loyal Sturges of Ontario, who delighted her audience by singing "The Kiss" in Italian and "Estrellita" in Spanish.

After extending a gracious welcome to her guests, Mrs. Kipp, presented by Mrs. Harvey as the speaker of the afternoon, addressed the club women on the problems of this country's neutrality, her topic being "The Place of the United States in a World of Chaos".

In describing what is happening and expressing an opinion as to what is likely to occur, both in Europe and Asia and in the Far East, Mrs. Kipp used a large map of the world as a geographic aid.

Attention of the American people is centered chiefly on western Europe, she stated, although those countries occupy but a small portion of the area involved in the present conflict. In emphasizing this comparison, Mrs. Kipp pointed out on the map the great size of giant Russia and that nation's vast supply of natural resources.

Urging the imperative need for this country keeping "emotionally controlled", Mrs. Kipp spoke of the success of the two great political parties in carrying this country through many national crises and expressed the hope that the "cool heads" of the nation may solve the problems of neutrality and keep the United States out of the Old World maelstrom.

In concluding her address, Mrs. Kipp urged the reading of Washington's farewell address, which she termed equally as applicable today as it was to the time of Washington.

A number of guests were presented, including Mrs. Geo. M. Smith of Alta Loma, Mrs. Ben H. Strother, mother of the hostess; Mrs. D. R. Kilbourne, formerly a member of the club; Mrs. Frank G. Sprake and Mrs. Emily J. Austin, county chairman of child welfare, all of San Antonio Heights.

During the tea hour that followed the program, Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Sprake presided at the tea table, which was graced with an ivory colored pottery bowl filled with old-fashion pinks and blue agathea blossoms. The guests also enjoyed a tour of Mrs. Kipp's beautiful flower garden.

Mrs. Sherwood Holds County Federation Convention

Drawing the unusually large attendance of 158 club women from many of the clubs in the county, the twenty-sixth annual convention of the San Bernardino County Federation of Women's clubs was held in Adelanto Friday, with Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood of Upland presiding.

Among the Southern District Federation officers and chairmen present were the new president, Mrs. Richard G. Miller of Huntington Beach; Mrs. C. M. Dekins of Balboa, chairman of amenities; Mrs. R. M. Day of Costa Mesa, chairman of Bible literature; Mrs. A. H. Halleck of Orange, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. M. Willson of Victorville, treasurer, and Mrs. E. H. Smith of Orange, who was the afternoon program speaker.

The usual ceremony marked the opening of the meeting at 10 a.m., with Mrs. Frank Buffington giving the invocation. The session was given over the reports from county presidents and other officers and chairmen and a report of the Southern district board meeting.

Luncheon was served at the noon hour by the hostess club.

The afternoon session opened with a musical program by the Victorville choral club, followed by Mrs. Smith's address. Mrs. Smith is district chairman of American citizenship and spoke on that topic.

Since county officers are elected for two year terms and this meeting concluded the first year for the present staff, there was no election.

Mrs. Sherwood will continue in office for another year, as will her officers and chairmen.

Upland members of the staff, besides Mrs. Sherwood, are Mrs. F. C. Buffington, Bible literature; Mrs. W. F. Goodban, legislation chairman and parliamentarian; Mrs. Emily J. Austin, child welfare, and Dr. Lilian F. Baxter, youth cooperation.

Clubs represented at the convention were those in Upland, Ontario, Bloomington, Fontana, Redlands, Rialto, Yucaipa, Crestline, Muscoy, Lake Arrowhead, Lucerne Valley, Barstow, Hinkley, Victorville and Adelanto.

Attending from Upland club were Mrs. Sherwood, county president; Mrs. Donald E. Hill, president of the Upland Woman's club; Dr. Lilian F. Baxter, Mrs. Emily J. Austin, Mrs. S. M. Jessup, Mrs. J. F. As-We-Like-It Club Honors Mrs. Titus On Birthday

Members of the As-We-Like-It club had the pleasure of expressing in happy fashion their admiration for a well loved member Saturday afternoon, when they participated in a surprise birthday tea in honor of Mrs. M. E. Titus, a pioneer resident of Upland who now makes her home in Ontario.

Mrs. Titus observed her ninety-first birthday anniversary Saturday, April 20, and the party in her honor followed the regular meeting of the As-We-Like-It club held at the home of Mrs. Leon Durham, 1124 North Euclid avenue.

At the conclusion of the program the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments and as Mrs. Titus entered she was greeted with the song, "Happy Birthday to You", and a shower of congratulations and happy wishes.

The dining room was abloom with spring flowers and the tea table, laid with a beautiful lace cloth, was centered with a mass of pink Belle of Portugal roses.

Using a handsome silver service, Mrs. Jeannette Whitmer poured tea and at the other end of the table Mrs. W. F. Kitchel cut and served an immense white birthday cake. Set on a silver platter, the cake was surrounded with a wreath of lilies-of-the-valley and hawthorne blossoms, Mrs. Titus' favorite flowers. Later she was presented with a huge bouquet of many beautiful flowers from Mrs. Etta Johnston's garden.

The nicest part of the party came at its conclusion, when Mrs. Titus very beautifully expressed her appreciation of the thoughtfulness of her friends and spoke of how sweet it is to have the affection of loved ones to brighten the sometimes lonely days that must come to those who attain great age.

Despite her 91 years Mrs. Titus misses few meetings of the club and she has taken her turn in presenting the program without the slightest need of apology, her papers ranking well with the best presented. Meeting the advancing years gallantly, she has taken her age and its curtailment of her activities with a whimsical humor and a merry heart that have won the admiration of her friends.

For its program the club concluded the series of lessons on South America. Miss Bertha Palmer gave a paper on the religions of the various South American peoples, Mrs. Jeannette Whitmer described the mighty Amazon river and Mrs. Etta Johnston told of the large island, Marajo, in the delta of the Amazon. Each of the papers was especially informative and presented in interesting manner.

Concluding the program the other members joined in giving miscellaneous bits of information concerning the southern countries.

Attending the club meeting and the party were Mrs. Titus, Miss Bertha Palmer, Mrs. Gust Anderson, Mrs. Edith Crane, Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Mrs. Frank M. Baxter, Mrs. W. F. Kitchel, Mrs. Jeannette Whitmer, Mrs. Lansing T. Vedder, Mrs. Etta Johnston, Miss Sinabel Hart, Mrs. A. C. Smithburn, a guest, and Mrs. Durham.

REVIEW OF BOOKS IN LOCAL LIBRARY

Good Will of South America Said To Be Dependent Upon Education

RUTH N. WEST, REVIEWER

"All-American Front", by Duncan Aikman.

From economists, theorists and travelers has come the oft-repeated admonition to citizens of North America: "Get acquainted with Latin America". "Our future welfare depends on full cooperation". "Turn away from entanglements in Europe and found a new era of peace and prosperity on friendship with those to the south". Shades of President James Monroe and his oft-quoted message to Congress which has become famous as the Monroe Doctrine!

But just the same, all the way from the Pan-American Union in Washington, D. C., to the annual rush of persuasive volumes from Carleton Beals, does this cry go forth. And, fortunately, it does not fall upon deaf ears! But, by now, nearly all the advocates of such a program, including individuals in the state department as well as the lowliest citizen who strives to keep abreast of the times, realize that first a comprehensive study of the twenty republics, politically, socially economically, physically, and morally, must be undertaken with a view to facing facts and accepting truths.

Duncan Aikman in his current volume "All-American Front", has given the reading (and thinking) public an intelligent political and psychological survey of the twenty republics to the south, whose understanding or cooperation we have not won after a century and a quarter of talking.

It is the present position of South America among the nations of the world that is vitally important to the United States today. The author sketches the British control of railroads, the United States interest in financing banks and currencies, the German ownership of airplane routes and factories. Upon this complicated structure are playing the forces of Fascist and Nazi influence. Upon peoples whose religion is that of the Catholic church are playing the forces of "communistic atheism". However, despite all the activity in the direction of establishing good-will, we, as a country, have constantly overlooked "the fact that the primary basis for a successful neighborly relationship is respect for the neighbor's rights rather than concern for his soul or the state of his pocketbook."

Gilbert Haddock, whose parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Justine Haddock, at one time residents of Cucamonga, passed away at noon Friday at the Alta Loma sanitarium. He was a native of Worcester, Mass., and was 41 years of age. Coming to California with his parents, he spent much of the past 20 years in Cucamonga, Etiwanda and Ontario. At one time he conducted a cigar store in Ontario. Mr. Haddock was a dwarf and for a number of years he traveled with a large circus. His only relative is a brother, Gordon Haddock of Crescent City, Ore.

Earle Meadows, Upland junior high school teacher, who until a week ago last Saturday held the pole vault record of 14 feet 11 inches, will go to Des Moines this week end with the hope that he will wrest the title from Cornelius Warmerdam, who vaulted 15 feet at a meet between the Olympic club, California, and Washington State, held in Berkeley recently.

Warmerdam, who is also a school teacher, will not compete, it is understood. Meadows will find his chief opposition from Padway of Wisconsin, it is expected. Going by airplane, Meadows will fly to Des Moines and back. The meet is the Drake Relay Carnival

Poppy posters entered in the district contest from the various local units were judged during the meeting held in Victorville Friday by the Twenty-fifth district of the American Legion Woman's Auxiliary and Upland entrants made an excellent showing.

In the elementary school division Lavonne McLellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Dick Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips of Upland, took second place in the elementary division.

Ben Masuda, Upland junior high school student, took second place in the junior high school division, and Dean Phillips, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips and a student at Chaffey high school, won second place in the high school group.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Lineau invited Mrs. Earl E. Marsh to preside as guest chairman and a number of distinguished guests were presented, including Mrs. W. Hathaway Wright, California department president, and other department officers and chairmen.

CUCAMONGA PEACH CROP 65 PER CENT

Warm Winter Causing Delayed Foliation Has Not Created Complete Crop Loss

Despite the warm winter, which always injures deciduous fruits, the peach crop in the Cucamonga district for the coming season is estimated at 65 per cent of a normal crop by R. H. McKennett, agricultural inspector for the Cucamonga district.

A secondary bloom promises to develop into a sizable crop. Delayed foliation, which follows warm winters, always causes smaller peach crops. The Babcock peach is a new variety which can survive the warm southern winters.

Expert Lauds Ford Safety Features

Approval of the big hydraulic brakes on all 1940 Ford cars as a major safety factor is voiced by Barney Oldfield, internationally famous one-time king of American racing drivers, now a leading exponent of traffic safety measures. Oldfield points to the large brake drums on a new Ford convertible club coupe in the picture above. This model, as well as all other 1940 Fords, has 12-inch brake drums, largest used on any car in the low price field.
